

Invariant subspaces: What else?

In this series of lectures, we will focus on different approaches to the Invariant Subspace Problem, nowadays one of the most important open problem in Operator Theory in Hilbert spaces, tracing back to Von Neumann in 1950. Despite of its elusive solution, this problem has generated a rich source of theories linking areas like Geometric Function Theory, Spectral Theory or Complex Analysis.